The New Costume Which all Suffragets May Begin Wearing

Mrs. John E. Boldt, called one of New York's prettiest suffragets, is here shown wearing a corsetless trouserette gown of her own design, which she declares is the style of costume which her sister "votes for women" advocates are proclaiming as a sensible form of dress. Mrs. Boldt is of the opinion that once a few leaders sum mon the courage to wear these costumes every woman in the country will follow suit in an amazingly short
